SCRA CAMPOUT

By James Durkin KE6FSK

Once again, this year's annual campout was a rousing success. The Saturday barbeque was as fine as ever, the morning breakfast hot and hearty. The standard jokes were not to be missed. And, the warmth and good fellowship flowed among those who attended.

Jim Rutherford and Kathy Mahan proved to be the perfect host and hostess extending a warm welcome to all who showed up, which offset the unusual weather up on Sugarloaf. Saturday turned out to be warm until after dinner, but as soon as the sun went down, the clouds came over and things started to chill. A nice campfire was built and soon the little HAM community gathered to share stories and experiences. All in all, about forty people showed up for Saturday's festivities.

Sunday's weather was not better in the least, but weather is not what makes this event. The weather from the heart was doing just fine, not to mention the twenty five chowing down on some fine morning fixin's.

Many people ask what exactly does one do on campout. Does one do Dxing? Does one do QRP? Does one earn points for a contest? The answer is as simple as it is complex. One does a campout!

To HAMs this means having fun, meeting people you have talked to but may never have met face to face. It means teaching and learning through Radio War Stories, like the one heard about the idiot who got on HAM Radio to inquire about how to get his HAM license. It means enjoying each other, promoting good will not only among ourselves but to others around us. It is, indeed, a very special event.

Hats off to Jim and Kathy. And, if you have never been to a SCRA campout, please be sure to make next year's. It will be an experience you will probably never forget.
